LOGLINE: To stop civil unrest, an elite IDF team travels back in time 2000 years to disprove Yeshua's resurrection. But their commanding officer has a different mission—one that endangers the world.

SUMMARY: In the near future, the Israeli military has developed a prototypic time machine. When believers in Yeshua (Jesus) create a politically explosive situation that threatens the balance of peace between Israel and nearby countries, the Israelis must send a team of four elite soldiers back to film the theft of Jesus' body from the tomb and thus disprove Christianity. The team, consisting of a Special Forces soldier as leader, an ex-American astronaut as engineering specialist, an archaeologist, and a linguist, has exactly seventy-two hours to collect the video evidence. Drawn into a web of first century deception and death, the only way to escape is for the team to change the past. In the present, a traitor attempts to sabotage the mission and seize control of the military complex. The Special Forces leader operating in the past is the only one who can reveal him, but he is trapped two thousand years away.

Even with a time machine, time is running out.

The Time Machine

ReachDeep is the name of the mission that will send 4 soldiers back to film the theft of Jesus' body from the tomb and thus disprove Christianity. With incontrovertible evidence, the Israeli government hopes to shut down the Jewish Messianic believers who seem to be destabilizing the country.

Character List

ReachDeep Team

BENJAMIN NATAN is the team leader of ReachDeep. He is a Lt.Col. in the IDF, a commando leader who does complex special ops rescues and other clandestine missions.

Benjamin's wife, TAMAR NATAN, is killed by a sniper. Benjamin is consumed with finding her killer. He is unable to let her go and move on to healing.

Major SARA LEVENSON is the second in command of the ReachDeep mission. She is an American astronaut who made aliyah to Israel after the destruction of the space station. On ReachDeep she is in charge of equipment and measuring time by star positions.

Captain DAVID BAUM is the third member of the ReachDeep mission. He is an archaeologist specializing in first century Jerusalem. He also is a practicing physician/pathologist.

Lieutenant REBECCA SHARETT is the final member of ReachDeep. She is a prodigy linguist from the University specializing in first century languages including Greek, Latin, and Aramaic.

Military Base

MARK LUCIEN is the charismatic head of a trillion dollar world shadow government who insists on people doing things his way. He has no love for Israel.

Brigadier General SHIMON GIDEON is the second in command of the military complex and the secret enemy who is trying to bring down ReachDeep. He was Benjamin's commander in special forces and also the one who killed his wife. He takes orders from Mark Lucien.

Colonel REUVEN AARON is the savvy head of security in the military complex guarding the time machine. Before anyone else does, he suspects Gideon is the mole in the complex.

Lieutenant EITAN GOLD is Aaron's protégé and right-hand man. Although only 25, he is smart as a whip and works perfectly with Aaron to keep the military complex safe.

Major CALEB MENDEL is Benjamin's best friend and trusted pilot during special ops missions. When he is found to be a believer, Benjamin's world is rocked.

Dr. LEAH ROSEN runs the medical part of the military base with skill and efficiency. She is able to discover secrets when no one else can.

Four-star general CHAIM LANDAU came out of retirement to run the military base surrounding the time machine. His leadership is first-rate, but he treads on dangerous ground.

About the Authors

Story: AMY DEARDON

AMY DEARDON is an award-winning novelist, nonfiction author, story analyst, speaker, and book publisher.

Amy's novel and nonfiction books have sold thousands despite being self-published.

With her successes in self-publishing and story coaching, she created a company, EBook Listing Services, that uses a unique business model for authors to self-publish while they keep all rights, profits, and control forever.

She speaks regularly at writers' conferences on all things writing – idea development, getting words down, how to shape a story into combustible material that rocks the reader, and all things marketing. She is also an expert speaker in self-publishing.

Lately her interests have evolved from print to script. This past year she teamed with award-winning scriptwriter, Victoria Dorshorn, to create a new story based on her first novel with a script called REACHDEEP. Vicki and Amy work well together and are planning a sequel. The updated novel that pairs with the script will be released soon.

Earlier in life, Amy earned a Ph.D. in environmental physiology from Johns Hopkins University and published her research findings in the scientific literature. Now with a grown family, she lives with her husband near Baltimore MD. Visit her website and blog at www.amydeardon.blog.

Comparable Film

Risen: 2016

PLOT

REACHDEEP portrays the attempt of a modern military team to film the theft of Jesus' body. Having arrived too late, the team leader sets about to discover who stole the body and where they put it.

In the film RISEN, a Roman soldier searches for Jesus's body following his resurrection.

RISEN shows that people will pay to see a movie about the search for truth concerning Jesus' burial and resurrection.

RISEN BUDGET

RISEN budget was about $20 million:

- A-list actor Joseph Fiennes.
- Exotic filming locations in Spain and Malta etc.
- Period costumes, props, and settings.
- Cast of 50 plus extras.

RISEN ROI (Return on Investment)

RISEN distributed by Columbia Pictures

Budget about $20 million:

- $46.2 million in World Box Office
- $12.3 million in Home Market Performance

- TOTAL $58.5 million

REACHDEEP ESTIMATED BUDGET

Cautious optimism that budget could be kept low, maybe about $2 million:

- Possible to rent the sets, costumes, and props from THE CHOSEN TV series in Goshen, Utah?
- Use newer actors and actresses.
- Cast of 33 plus extras, fewer than RISEN'S cast of 50.

The Time is Now!

All things Israel are hot right now with the war going on in the Middle East.

The proposed sacrifice of the red heifers, as well as the question about rebuilding the Third Temple, stokes religious fervor in the nation and the world.

The surprising support of Hamas over Israel in the world shows that Israel could use some good press.

Jesus is never out of season. The evidence for the resurrection is compelling. REACHDEEP centers on reasons why the resurrection could be true.
